Country Manager a.i. UNIFEM Liberia Achievements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Monitored and provided support to ongoing projects both substantively and financially to ensure efficient and timely delivery and realization of results</li> </ul>	January – April 2009

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Supervised the support of the Country office to the Ministry of Gender and Development as co-organizer of the International Colloquium on Women Empowerment, Leadership Development, International Peace and Security. Monrovia- Liberia March 7-8 2009.</li> <li>• Also supported the completion and launch of a National Action Plan on UN Security Council Resolution 1325 at the International Colloquium.</li> <li>• Worked closely with the existing staff and strengthen the team building and communication.</li> <li>• Ensured effective management of programme resources.</li> <li>• Oversights of financial resources management and administrative processes in line with UNDP/UNIFEM procedures and guidelines.</li> </ul>
Country Manager a.i. UNIFEM Sierra Leone Achievements: Within the period I supported the office in the above capacity, overall confidence of donors, the UN Country Team, the Ministry for Gender and other local partners in UNIFEM's ability to provide leadership on gender issues increased immensely. Specific achievements made within the period include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Provided leadership to the country team to mobilize considerable resources for programming on Violence against Women and Elections</li> <li>• Finalized the country strategic plan for Sierra Leone (2008 – 2011)</li> <li>• Represent UNIFEM on the UN Country Team.</li> <li>• Reviewed, finalised and defended a gender proposal for USD1.7million to provide capacity building support to the Ministry of social Welfare Gender and Children's Affairs at the technical committee of the Peace Building Fund and received provisional approval.</li> <li>• Contributed to expansion of the country programme resources by coordinating the recruitment of 4 programme staff and 2 interns.</li> <li>• Successfully resolved leadership, human resource and administrative issues which had jeopardized not only the management and finances of the UNIFEM office, but also threatened to undermine our professionalism and role as a leader on gender equality in the country.</li> </ul>	April – November 2008
Programme Specialist (Gender and Governance) UNIFEM sub-Regional Office for Nigeria, Ghana, Liberia and Sierra Leone Managed a 2.5million USD project on "Promoting Women's Empowerment, Participation and Access to Politics and Leadership in Nigeria Towards and Beyond the 2007 General Elections". Leading a team of 4 consultants to provide support and capacity building for NGOs who help empower women to participate actively and effectively in politics and governance. Specific achievements include: Partnerships and Strong Stakeholder Base: I played an important role in mobilising and sustaining stakeholder interest, involvement and ownership of the project through the Technical Committee on Gender chaired by the Federal Ministry of women affairs. The committee met once every quarter. Through the committee I ensured synergy between the project and comparable initiatives by the Federal Ministry of women affairs, sister UN Agencies, and various NGOs. Through my leadership and advocacy of the team of consultants working with me, the Independent Electoral Commission (INEC) came out strongly in favour of the creation of an environment conducive to women's effective participation in the elections. Support for Women Candidates: I and my team created an empowering atmosphere within the UNIFEM offices	April 2006 – June 2009

thus attracting many women aspirants from all political parties to come in for consultations and guidance. This was a safe space for women to share experiences and strategies with colleagues, and to have access to the media contacts already working with UIFEM. A consultant was dedicated to provide one-on-one strategic training sessions. Over 60 women candidates made use of this service. Creation of a Database of women political aspirants: As team leader I supervised the development of a data base of women who aspired for political office at the different levels. Through the database the women were tracked through the election process from the expression of interest, through nomination up to the election results. The database is a useful tool for tracking; follow up support to women politicians, and comparative analysis of women's performance in different elections. Technical assistance to key institutions and stakeholders: I provided technical support to INEC enabling this important Commission to strengthen its internal capacity to mainstream gender equality in its work. I and my team facilitated a training workshop for INEC staff, in addition to involving them in the Technical Committee on Gender. The staff member and her team also organized and facilitated training for senior representatives of media houses on gender, elections and the role of the media. This workshop resulted in a media consultative group on gender which worked with UNIFEM during the elections period. Migration: In addition to the elections project, and through personal initiative and interest, I provided leadership at UNIFEM in developing a project on gender and migration with women's rights as the entry point. This innovative project gained the participation of ECOWAS and five UN agencies, with each institution contributing to a seed grant to undertake a situation analysis in 8 West African countries. Other achievements include: Providing technical support to the Regional Programme Director in all programming areas, with special focus on gender and elections programmes in Nigeria, Ghana and Sierra Leone. Assisting the Regional Programme Director in securing and sustaining an effective role in donor and UN coordination mechanisms.
