2. EMPLOYMENT HISTORY/ACHIEVEMENTS

Gender Advisor to the UN Resident and Humanitarian Coordinator for Sudan UN Sudan Responsibilities: Strengthen gender mainstreaming and address gender equality and women’s empowerment across UN Agencies, funds and programmes in both humanitarian assistance and development cooperation. In close collaboration with the UNWomen Country Representative and in line with results articulated in the UNDAF (2018-2021) and the Multi-year Humanitarian Strategy (2017-2019), provides: strategic advice, coordination and technical support, representation, partnership building and resource mobilization to the RC/HC, the UNCT and the HCT towards achievement of concrete and sustainable results on the advancement of women’s rights in Sudan.	October 2018 - date
Gender and Institutional Effectiveness Advisor – Detail Assignment UNDP Gender Team – Bureau for Programme and Policy Support New York Main Achievements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provided technical guidance on gender mainstreaming and completed a baseline assessment of 29 country offices within the Regional Bureau for Africa in preparation for application for the Gender Seal Round in 2015/2016 and drafted the assessment report for presentation to Senior Management • Completed the report of the second pilot phase of the Gender Equality Seal (2013/2014); including through development and dissemination of online survey tool to Country Offices (senior management, national and regional gender focal points) to gather required information. • Contributed to assessment of Country Offices applying to the 2016 Gender Equality Seal. • Contributed to revision of the Gender Equality Seal Framework and methodology for full roll out. • Supported recruitment of personnel for the Gender Equality Seal and other units within the Gender & BPPS Team. 	Jan – May 2015; November 2016
Gender Advisor/Head of Cross-cutting Unit (Gender and HIV-AIDS) UNDP Somalia, Mogadishu Responsible for overall gender advisory, mainstreaming and programme management functions under UNDP Somalia’s Country Programme (2011 – 2015; 2015 - 2017). Main Achievements: Developed and implemented Gender Equality Strategies (2012 to 2015; and 2015 to 2017) for UNDP Somalia. Developed the Gender Equality and Women’s Empowerment (GEWE) Programme. Established the Gender Unit with 7 team members initially, expanding to 11 with the transformation into the ‘cross-cutting unit – including the HIV-AIDS Project. Mobilized initial resources for the take-off of the UNDP Somalia GEWE Programme to the tune of $6,000,000 with an additional $1,000,000 by the end of the second year and $5,000,000 in year four. Contributed to improving women’s status through the record increase of women’s representation in the Somali Federal parliament from 14% in 2012 to 25% (upper and lower houses) in the 2016 indirect federal elections; signifying 71% increment. I and my team on the GEWE Project were at the centre of these efforts. We worked with gender ministries at the federal level and in all the member states, united women around a common agenda on the 30% quota, stimulated civil society advocacy and sensitization, engaged the media to promote the quota in public consciousness and supported a “committee of Goodwill Ambassadors” to directly lobby gatekeepers and power brokers to adhere to the agreed quota for women. Within 2 years of implementation, the first CO Gender Strategy and the GEWE Programme have recorded commendable achievements. In 2013, UNDP Somalia undertook the UNDP Gender Equality Seal Assessment. The Gender Seal is a corporate tool developed to certify the level of gender mainstreaming across all programmatic and operational aspects of the country office’s work. By the end of the assessment in 2014, UNDP Somalia achieved a ‘High Silver’ certification based on a final score of 78%; fulfilling 72 out of 92 benchmarks. This was acknowledged as a significant improvement from a baseline of 57% in 2013. In making the certification, the Gender Seal office noted that the country office clearly contributed to the national gender equality goals in Somalia by: helping to improve access to justice	Dec. 2011 – October 2018

for women through legal aid and sexual violence referral centers and mobile courts; expanded economic opportunities for women through livelihood programmes; and impacted on increasing women's representation in the public sector (e.g. women's employment as public prosecutors) and in decision-making (the parliament). Observing that the Somalia government and civil society actors recognized the country office as a significant actor for gender equality in Somalia, UNDP Somalia was hailed as an example of how to integrate gender within internal policies and practices linked to programming under a crisis context. Facilitated international exposure for Somali women's rights advocates and their issues through for example, participation at the UN Commission on the Status of Women (CSW6) in New York, from 2014 to date. In 2016, the delegation which included Gender Ministers and women CSOs were actively involved in plenary sessions as well as a side-event co-hosted by UNDP and the Ministry of Women and Human Rights Development, on the experiences of Somalia and Liberia, integrating gender considerations in implementation of the New Deal under the theme: "Women's Leadership in SDG Implementation in Situations of Conflict and Fragility: Lessons from Somalia and Liberia." The Nobel Laureate and front-line women's rights and peace activist from Liberia, Leymah Gbowee gave a presentation at the event. Led the development and implementation of an e-survey by the Somali Federal Ministry of Planning in collaboration with UNDP to gather information on citizens' preferences in relation to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) for alignment with the Somalia National Development Plan (2017-2019). Consistent capacity and knowledge building (gender, leadership and human rights trainings and manuals) mainstreaming support (consultations, document reviews and analysis, monitoring) for staff, government counterparts and CSOs has led to noticeable mainstreaming of gender in all CO programmes with accompanying significant impact on results. Secured UNDP position within the UNCT HIV-AIDs programming structure through strengthening HIV & AIDS governance structures in Somalia, building partnerships between UNDP and other key stakeholders e.g. UNAIDS and other UN Agencies, Health Sector Committee and People Living with HIV etc. Represent UNDP Somalia on the UN-GTG and have been instrumental in promoting the adoption of a gender strategy for the UNCT/HCT, coordinating UN inter-Agency support for a National Gender Policy for Somalia and other efforts of UN Gender Focal Points to mainstream gender into the Somali Compact and its implementation.
Visiting Professor on 'Human Rights in Africa with a special Focus on Gender Issues' The Central European University (CEU) Legal Department Budapest, Hungary See: http://legal.ceu.edu/courses/human-rights-africa-special-focus-gender-issues	2010/2011 academic year - date
Rule of Law and Gender Advisor/Programme Specialist SGBV Improving Access to Justice in Sierra Leone UNDP Sierra Leone Key Functions : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provided technical advice and mentoring on gender issues, basic human rights, code of conduct and principles of the justice system to local judiciary, law-enforcement, security and traditional authorities. • Provided capacity building support for non-governmental rule of law actors, including consultative and participatory processes with national stakeholders, including women's networks and legal professionals. • Participated in inter-agency working groups and initiatives to promote rule of law and gender, as well as protection and human security. • Performed quality control function of project activities, including gender monitoring and evaluation, assessing impact and effectiveness, tracking outputs and results, and ensure timely and efficient delivery of project outputs through a client-satisfaction approach. • Submit regular reports on project progress and situation reports. • Support the UNDP Country Office and the Government of Sierra Leone in the identification and development of synergies and partnerships with others actors (national and international) on Rule of Law and Gender issues at the strategic, technical and operational level. • Support the UNDP Country Office in its resource mobilization efforts for projects and activities related to rule of law and gender. 	June 2009 – Nov. 2011

Main Achievements: Led the establishment of Sierra Leone’s first Legal Aid Scheme with national reach from 2009 until 2011. In the 2 years of implementation the Scheme reached 953 indigent citizens and lessons from its operations informed the development of a National Legal Aid Scheme and Legal Aid Act 2012. Guided the access to justice programme to prioritize legal support to the victims of Sexual and Gender-based Violence (SGBV). Support was provided through CSO paralegals and lawyers as well as the Bar Association. Facilitated the establishment of special “Saturday Courts”, consisting of magistrates and high courts specifically mandated to consider SGBV cases in February 2011. These courts, at Magistrate and High Court level, were aimed at providing a victim friendly environment on Saturdays (when no other courts are sitting) and also at ensuring that SGBV cases are dealt with as expediently as possible. By the end of January 2013, 1223 SGBV cases were registered with 606 of them disposed of, including 122 convictions, while 168 cases were registered at High Court level with 104 disposed of and 56 convictions made. In total, 178 convictions were obtained. The Saturday courts were instrumental to reducing the time line from the lodging of police complaints to the hearing of cases to 2-3 weeks from several months to even sometimes years. Led the development of an SGBV Case Management handbook for police officers. The handbook was presented in practical language tailored to the specific context of Sierra Leone and the structure of the justice sector response to GBV. It was well received and had achieved nationwide usage within the Police special GBV units. An assessment of development results in Sierra Leone in 2013, found that the handbook was considered to be invaluable for the investigation and prosecution of GBV cases by the Police. Led the development of a Media Handbook for Reporting on SGBV Cases, as well as provision of comprehensive training of journalists on the Handbook and introduction of an incentive to journalists in the form of an annual media awards scheme. With the aim of increasing public legal awareness on SGBV issues, the initiative led to regularity of reporting SGBV cases and convictions in all major newspapers. Developed initial concept for a programme for promoting women’s land and property rights addressing the intrinsic linkage between SGBV and the issue of women’s economic and social rights in Sierra Leone. By the end of 2013, the initiative had reached 325 community women leaders throughout the country with training on land rights, human rights, and advocacy and lobbying skills.
Country Manager a.i. UNIFEM Liberia Achievements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Monitored and provided support to ongoing projects both substantively and financially to ensure efficient and timely delivery and realization of results • Supervised the support of the Country office to the Ministry of Gender and Development as co-organizer of the International Colloquium on Women Empowerment, Leadership Development, International Peace and Security. Monrovia- Liberia March 7-8 2009. • Also supported the completion and launch of a National Action Plan on UN Security Council Resolution 1325 at the International Colloquium. • Worked closely with the existing staff and strengthen the team building and communication. • Ensured effective management of programme resources. • Oversights of financial resources management and administrative processes in line with UNDP/UNIFEM procedures and guidelines. 	January – April 2009
Country Manager a.i. UNIFEM Sierra Leone Achievements: Within the period I supported the office in the above capacity, overall confidence of donors, the UN Country Team, the Ministry for Gender and other local partners in UNIFEM’s ability to provide leadership on gender issues increased immensely. Specific achievements made within the period include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provided leadership to the country team to mobilize considerable resources for programming on Violence against Women and Elections • Finalized the country strategic plan for Sierra Leone (2008 – 2011) • Represent UNIFEM on the UN Country Team. • Reviewed, finalised and defended a gender proposal for USD1.7million to provide capacity building support to the Ministry of social Welfare Gender and Children’s Affairs at the technical committee of 	April – November 2008

the Peace Building Fund and received provisional approval. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contributed to expansion of the country programme resources by coordinating the recruitment of 4 programme staff and 2 interns. • Successfully resolved leadership, human resource and administrative issues which had jeopardized not only the management and finances of the UNIFEM office, but also threatened to undermine our professionalism and role as a leader on gender equality in the country.
Programme Specialist (Gender and Governance) UNIFEM sub-Regional Office for Nigeria, Ghana, Liberia and Sierra Leone Managed a 2.5million USD project on “Promoting Women’s Empowerment, Participation and Access to Politics and Leadership in Nigeria Towards and Beyond the 2007 General Elections”. Leading a team of 4 consultants to provide support and capacity building for NGOs who help empower women to participate actively and effectively in politics and governance. Specific achievements include: Partnerships and Strong Stakeholder Base: I played an important role in mobilising and sustaining stakeholder interest, involvement and ownership of the project through the Technical Committee on Gender chaired by the Federal Ministry of women affairs. The committee met once every quarter. Through the committee I ensured synergy between the project and comparable initiatives by the Federal Ministry of women affairs, sister UN Agencies, and various NGOs. Through my leadership and advocacy of the team of consultants working with me, the Independent Electoral Commission (INEC) came out strongly in favour of the creation of an environment conducive to women’s effective participation in the elections. Support for Women Candidates: I and my team created an empowering atmosphere within the UNIFEM offices thus attracting many women aspirants from all political parties to come in for consultations and guidance. This was a safe space for women to share experiences and strategies with colleagues, and to have access to the media contacts already working with UNIFEM. A consultant was dedicated to provide one-on-one strategic training sessions. Over 60 women candidates made use of this service. In 2007, successfully developed the strategic plan for the Trust Fund for Nigerian Women in Politics to amongst other objectives, ‘ensure the availability of funds for women who are highly motivated to run for office in any level of government in Nigeria’. Now known as the ‘Nigerian Women’s Trust Fund and registered as an NGO, http://nigerianwomentrustfund.org/about-us/ Creation of a Database of women political aspirants: As team leader I supervised the development of a data base of women who aspired for political office at the different levels. Through the database the women were tracked through the election process from the expression of interest, through nomination up to the election results. The database is a useful tool for tracking; follow up support to women politicians, and comparative analysis of women’s performance in different elections. Technical assistance to key institutions and stakeholders: I provided technical support to INEC enabling this important Commission to strengthen its internal capacity to mainstream gender equality in its work. I and my team facilitated a training workshop for INEC staff, in addition to involving them in the Technical Committee on Gender. Also organized and facilitated training for senior representatives of media houses on gender, elections and the role of the media. This workshop resulted in a media consultative group on gender which worked with UNIFEM during the elections period. Migration: In addition to the elections project, and through personal initiative and interest, I provided leadership at UNIFEM in developing a project on gender and migration with women’s rights as the entry point. This innovative project gained the participation of ECOWAS and five UN agencies, with each institution contributing to a seed grant to undertake a situation analysis in 8 West African countries. Other achievements include: Providing technical support to the Regional Programme Director in all programming areas, with special focus on gender and elections programmes in Nigeria, Ghana and Sierra Leone. Assisting the Regional Programme Director in securing and sustaining an effective role in donor and UN coordination mechanisms.	April 2006 – June 2009
