2. Admission and eligibility for the LEGS Doctoral Program

2.1. Language requirements

Students seeking admission must satisfy the language requirements defined by the respective provisions of the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations.

2.2. Degree requirements

2.2.1. Subject to Sect. 2.2.2, applicants must hold a qualifying law degree, i.e. a law degree that allows its holder to seek admission to the bar in the jurisdiction concerned.

2.2.2. Applicants who do not hold a qualifying law degree are eligible if they have earned a master's degree in law from an accredited university.

2.2.3. All applicants who hold a master's degree in law from CEU must have obtained a GPA equal or superior to 3.33 (B+). If the applicant is still finalizing their LLM at CEU the same GPA applies at the moment of application.

2.3. Other entry requirements

2.3.1. Applicants have to submit an English-language academic writing sample (essay, journal article, etc.). For applicants holding an English-language master's degree in law, this writing sample should be the applicant's master's thesis.

2.3.2. Each applicant must satisfy the other requirements imposed by the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations, including but not limited to submission of a complete application package.

2.3.3. Students are admitted to the Doctoral Program with full or any other of the CEU PU financial packages as determined and advertised by CEU PU. The number of Doctoral Students accepted is determined for every Academic Year by the LEGS Doctoral Committee.

2.4. Parallel post-graduate studies

2.4.1. Doctoral students cannot be enrolled into another post-graduate program (e.g. another LL.M. program) unless such enrollment is specifically approved by the LEGS Doctoral Committee when deciding on applications for the CEU PU LEGS Doctoral Program or prior to applying to such a program. Every doctoral student has to provide also a signed statement of responsibility upon getting enrolled in the LEGS Doctoral Program.

2.4.2. Infringement of these rules may result in immediate termination of the Doctoral Status with CEU PU and the obligation to repay the stipends and other benefits received by the student while enrolled in the CEU PU doctoral program.

2.5. Employment and stipend

2.5.1. Probationary Doctoral Candidates (see below at Art. 3.1.1.) may not receive permission to suspend their studies because of employment, or work in any form, before passing the comprehensive examination irrespective of the nature of the income-earning activities (e.g. employment or service-contract, for-profit or non-profit employer).

2.5.2. After the successful completion of the conditions and promotion to Doctoral Candidate status, Doctoral Candidates may exceptionally enter into employment or other income-producing contractual relationship only if:

- (a) the employment related duties are to be performed in academic, human rights or governmental areas, or if the work is directly connected to the dissertation topic of the Doctoral Candidate and it could be presumed that the work will be of benefit also to the research and doctoral studies; and
- (b) the Doctoral Candidate is not prevented thereby from fully satisfying all the obligations provided by the relevant regulations of CEU PU, and
- (c) as a rule the work is to be predominantly performed in Vienna.

2.5.3. Approval of employment, or equivalent, may be granted only prior to entering into the employment relationship.

3. Residence, attendance, and other duties

3.1. Status and maximum duration of doctoral studies

3.1.1. Successful applicants are admitted to the first year of doctoral studies as 'Probationary Doctoral Candidates'. They become 'Doctoral Candidates' upon successfully passing the comprehensive (oral) examination not later than 15 months from the date of the original enrolment.

3.1.2. Entitlement to sit the comprehensive examination is open only to those Probationary Doctoral Candidates who have:

- a/ regularly attended all doctoral activities for the period of, at least, a full six months of the academic year, and
- b/ earned, at least, ten ECTS credits by the date upon which the examination is scheduled, and
- c/ their Dissertation Structure-Proposal has been accepted by their supervisor and the respective Program Chair.

3.1.3. It is a condition for becoming a Doctoral Candidate that the grade for the Comprehensive Exam is not lower than B+. The Probationary Doctoral Status of those students whose grade for the comprehensive examination is lower than B+ is allowed to retake the examination once. If the Doctoral Candidate fails at the second attempt, according to the above criteria, then the student is automatically terminated two weeks after the student is notified of the result. If the student files an appeal (as per the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations), the Status terminates on the date the decision on the appeal becomes final.

3.2. Residence and general duties

3.2.1. Probationary Doctoral Candidates are required to reside in Vienna during their probationary period and may be granted a period of absence not exceeding two calendar months by the LEGS Doctoral Committee only in exceptional cases. The following exceptional circumstances may qualify: serious illness, family reasons (e.g. death in family) or participation at conferences or research at another institution on a topic closely related to the candidate's dissertation topic.

3.2.2. Absence may be granted solely by the LEGS Doctoral Committee on the basis of the prior written approval of the candidate's Program Chair.

3.2.3. Doctoral Candidates shall be exempted from the Vienna residency requirement for an annual one-month (optional) break during the summer holiday period (i.e. July and/or August) and for any specifically authorized scholarship or research period abroad.

3.2.4. Some of the mandatory activities may take place during intensive weekend sessions.

3.2.5. Doctoral Candidates are obliged to take part in all doctoral activities organized by the Department of Legal Studies as long as they receive a scholarship from CEU PU and notwithstanding that they have collected all the mandatory credits. Doctoral Candidates can miss one session of a respective type of doctoral activity in a year. Any further absence must be reported to the Director of the Doctoral Program and have a compelling reason (sickness, conflicting commitments at CEU or elsewhere, important family events, etc.) and supporting documentation should in principle be offered.

3.2.6. It is expected that the senior Doctoral Candidates, in particular, will actively contribute to class discussions and actively participate in the doctoral activities.

3.3. Coursework and credits

3.3.1. The total number of credits to be acquired by Doctoral Candidates is 240 ECTS credits. Not less than 60 ECTS credits have to be earned during the probationary period.

3.3.2. The detailed matrix of activities, requirements and credits that could be earned is attached as Annex I to these LEGS Doctoral Regulations.

3.3.3. Doctoral Candidates will participate in the activities described in Annex I of the LEGS Doctoral Regulations together with Probationary Doctoral Candidates.

3.3.4. Doctoral Students are obliged – in addition to the duties specified by the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations – to regularly contact their supervisors and to submit monthly and annual reports on their activities, including research results, publications and other major achievements. The details of such duties and responsibilities are laid out in the Doctoral Supervision Agreement mentioned below in Arts. 3.4 and 5. of these LEGS Doctoral Regulations and a template of which constitutes Annex II hereto.

3.3.5. Doctoral Students are also expected to constructively participate in other activities organized by the University and/or other departments (e.g. public lectures, conferences).

3.4. Doctoral Supervision Agreement, Dissertation Structure-Proposal and deadlines

3.4.1. Probationary Doctoral Candidates shall sign a Doctoral Supervision Agreement according to the terms indicated in the template at Annex II to these LEGS Doctoral Regulations. A Dissertation Structure-Proposal together with the Submission-Schedule will be attached to the Doctoral Supervision Agreement.

The Dissertation Structure Proposal shall be submitted before the end of the first term to the supervisor and the Submission-Schedule is to be added with specification of the submission dates.

3.4.2. The Dissertation Structure-Proposal is to contain:

- a brief introduction highlighting why the chosen topic is novel and how could the thesis be a significant contribution to the body of knowledge and understanding of the subject with which it deals;
- the preliminary table of contents;
- identification of the main issues and problems to be analyzed;
- identification and justification of the chosen jurisdictions; and
- preliminary bibliography with a separate list of sources with which the research shall be started.

3.4.3. The Dissertation Structure-Proposals shall be discussed within the framework of the “Work in Progress” seminars.

3.4.4. The Submission-Schedule is to be made for the four years of doctoral studies at CEU PU according to the following:

- a/ the dissertation outline and a first chapter is to be submitted no later than the end of the first academic year;
- b/ the first draft of a second chapter is to be submitted no later than the end of the first term of the second academic year;
- c/ the first draft of a third chapter is to be submitted no later than the end of the second academic year;
- d/ in principle, by the end of the third academic year of doctoral studies a draft of at least two thirds of the doctoral dissertation should be submitted to the supervisor.
- e/ the fourth year of the doctoral dissertation should be destined to finalizing the remaining chapters to be submitted according to the Submission-Schedule annexed to the Doctoral Supervision Agreement.

3.4.5. In principle, no doctoral student can leave for research without having, at least, an approved draft of one chapter of the dissertation (excluding introduction and conclusions).

3.4.6. Doctoral Candidates shall submit their revised Dissertation Structure-Proposals and Submission-Schedules (including submission dates for revised chapters) by the end of September of each Academic Year as an annex to the Doctoral Supervision Agreement.

3.4.7. Where a student deviates from the submission schedule or where the supervisor regards the submitted work to be unsatisfactory, the student's progress shall be reviewed by the LEGS Doctoral Committee. The LEGS Doctoral Committee may consider the imposition of proportionate sanctions, which include, but are not limited to: a) refusal to provide the student with academic references; (b) issuance of a formal written warning; (c) withdrawal of stipend until satisfactory progress is made; (d) termination of a student's doctoral studies.

3.4.8. Where a student's progress is to be reviewed by the LEGS Doctoral Committee under 3.4.7 above, the student shall be invited by his/her supervisor to submit in advance any written evidence of extenuating medical or compassionate circumstances that the student considers relevant to the LEGS Doctoral Committee's assessment. The Doctoral Committee shall consider only exceptional and adequately proven objective reasons (e.g. pressing and unforeseen family circumstances, hospitalization). Evidence of ill-health must be authenticated by the student's medical advisor - self-certification will not be accepted. Medical certificates should be forwarded directly to the relevant Program Chair or to the Director of the Doctoral Program.

3.5. CEU PU's Policy on Student Plagiarism (Excerpt)

The full text of the Policy on Student Plagiarism, including the Guidelines, is available at:

Article 1 – Definition of Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a form of academic misconduct. It is a practice that involves taking and using another person’s work and claiming it, directly or indirectly, as one’s own. Plagiarism occurs both when the words of another are reproduced without acknowledgment and when the ideas or arguments of another are paraphrased or summarized in such a way as to lead the reader to believe that they originated with the writer. Further clarification and examples can be found in the Guidelines (Annex 1). [...]

Article 2.2 – Responsibilities of Students

It is the responsibility of students:

- to ensure that work submitted for purposes of assessment is their own;
- to ensure that the words and arguments of others are appropriately cited and referenced using an accepted referencing system; and
- to ascertain if academic units allow the submission of work that has been previously submitted in whole or in part and, where it is allowed, to gain permission from the relevant faculty member prior to submission.

Annex 1 – Guidelines

Table 1: Offending Strategies in Writing

Severity of Offense	Example
Serious Plagiarism	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Submitting as one’s own work a text largely or wholly written by another person or persons. • Copying or paraphrasing substantial sections¹ from one or more works of other authors into one’s own text, without attribution, that is, omitting any reference to the work(s) either in the body of the text, in footnotes, or in the bibliography/reference list • Submitting a thesis as part of masters or doctoral requirements which has been previously submitted to another institution in English or in another language.
Less serious plagiarism	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paraphrase of a substantial section or several smaller sections of another text or texts without any reference in the body text, but the work is included in the bibliography/reference list. • Copying verbatim two or three not necessarily consecutive phrases, or one or two not necessarily consecutive sentences, from the work of others without attribution. • Copying verbatim one substantial or several smaller sections from another text without quotation marks but with reference provided within the student’s text. • Submitting without permission one’s own work that has been largely or wholly submitted for credit to another course.
Poor Scholarship (not a breach of the policy)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Copying verbatim one small section, for example a paragraph, or several sentences from another text without question marks but with clear reference provided within the student’s text. • Summarizing an author’s ideas at length but only mentioning the author or the source at the end of the paragraph.

¹ The word ‘section’ is understood here to mean more than one consecutive sentence. A copied section that has had a small number of extra words inserted by the student may still be considered as copied.

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Mentioning an author with appropriate citation in an early sentence but no attribution in subsequent sentences, so that it is unclear whether the author's ideas are continuing or the writer's own comments being offered. • Including a correctly referenced short fragment from another text but without quotation marks. • Using an author's work with incomplete reference (e.g. page number is missing, or the work appears only in a footnote/parenthesis and is missing from the reference list).

Measures to be taken in cases confirmed as plagiarism

- (1) In the case of a single first offense classified as less serious plagiarism, the student should:
 - a. receive an oral or written reprimand (not reflected on the transcript), and
 - b. rewrite the assignment and receive a lowered grade (usually a retake pass C+).
- (2) In the case of a second/subsequent offense of less serious plagiarism, or in the case of a first offense of serious plagiarism that the academic unit considers does not warrant the most serious sanctions, the student should:
 - a. receive a written reprimand (not reflected on the transcript), and
 - b. rewrite the assignment and receive a lowered grade (usually a retake pass C+) or be given a fail grade.
- (3) In the case of multiple offences, or of a single particularly serious offence, students should:
 - a. receive a written reprimand (that will appear on the student's transcript)
 - b. receive a fail grade, with or without the possibility of retake (this often depends on whether the course is compulsory or elective).
- (4) In very serious cases, such as plagiarizing a major part of an assignment, or where there have been more than two instances of serious plagiarism despite written warnings and other sanctions described above, the academic unit should consider initiating formal procedures towards expelling the student from the University in accordance with the applicable policies, such as Student Rights, Rules and Academic Regulations.

In the case of multiple simultaneous minor offences, the academic unit should decide whether these repetitions stem from ignorance (in which case they may be treated as a single offence) or the intent either to deceive or to avoid work, either of which may justify more severe action.

The instances listed in the last category in Table 1 (Poor Scholarship) should be attributed to poor ability, unclear thinking or carelessness. As such, they should not be considered academic dishonesty but should be penalized in the same way as other poor-quality work, namely by a decrease in the final grade commensurate with the negative impact they have on the assignment as a whole.

The CEU's Policy on Student Plagiarism and CEU's Student Rights, Rules and Academic Regulations shall prevail in questions not regulated by these Guidelines.

The CEU's Code of Ethics shall be applicable with the exceptions and deviations set out in the present Guidelines.

4. Withdrawal, re-enrollment, termination

4.1. Probationary Doctoral Candidates in principle may not request withdrawal with the right to re-enrolment. In exceptional cases, (e.g. serious medical condition) the LEGS Doctoral Program Committee may, however, approve withdrawal with a right to re-enroll in a specified period of time.

4.2. Doctoral Candidates may request stopping the stipend or withdrawal as per the provisions of the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations.

5. Supervision

5.1. The provisions of the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations in force apply respectively.

5.2 A Doctoral Supervision Agreement between the supervisor(s) and the doctoral students laying out the details of the responsibilities of both sides as well as the annexed submission schedules will be signed based on the form in Annex II to these LEGS Doctoral Regulations.

5.3. Apart from what indicated more specifically in the Doctoral Supervision Agreement, the responsibilities of the supervisor and the possible associate supervisor include:

- a/ giving guidance about the nature of research and standards expected, about the choice of research topic, about the planning of the research program and about relevant literature and resources;
- b/ giving detailed advice in order to ensure that the whole research project and dissertation writing is completed within the scheduled time;
- c/ regularly requesting pieces of written work and/or research results and return such work (including dissertation drafts) with constructive criticism within a reasonable time;
- d/ informing the student about the satisfactory or unsatisfactory progress of his/her work;
- e/ reporting once per academic year in writing to the Doctoral Committee on the candidate's progress; the content of this report must be communicated to the student;
- f/ mentoring students in their preparation for an academic career;
- g/ encouraging students to play a full and active role in the intellectual life of the department and the university;
- h/ assisting students in finding suitable host universities for study/research abroad under the Doctoral Research Support Scheme.

6. Examinations and the final defense

6.1. Comprehensive examination

6.1.1. The comprehensive examination is taken before a three-member examination committee invited by the Program Chair of the Probationary Candidate and with the consent of the Director of the Doctoral Program.

6.1.2. The doctoral student is provided in due time with a reading assignment for the exam. The reading assignment will encompass scholarly articles and/or parts of books from various disciplines or other legal materials covering areas related to the subject-matter of the dissertation – as approved by the doctoral student's Program Chair and the doctoral student's supervisor.

6.1.3. Probationary Candidates are obliged to communicate to the Director of the Doctoral Program in due time:

- the finalized dissertation (topic);
- an indicative time when would they like to have their examination scheduled.

6.1.4. The date, members of the examination panel and the subjects of the comprehensive examination are decided upon by the Program Chair. As a rule, the comprehensive (oral) examination shall take place within 15 calendar months from the beginning of the doctoral studies.

6.1.5. Minutes of the examination are taken featuring the questions asked and answers provided. Any of the panel members are entitled to make comments on the examination or on the grade. The grade is awarded according to the general grading system of CEU PU. Only grades B+ or better are passing grades at the comprehensive examination.

6.1.6. The doctoral student may retake the failed exam not earlier than one month and not later than five months from the date of the failed exam, before the same or a modified Committee. On the basis of the minutes of the exam the Doctoral Committee decides the grade.

6.1.7. Comprehensive exams may be retaken only once.

6.2. Submission of dissertation for defense and examination of the dissertation

6.2.1. Doctoral Candidates may submit the dissertation only if submission is approved by their dissertation supervisor in writing.

6.2.2. The doctoral dissertation may not be less than 80,000 and may not exceed 130,000 words (including tables, graphs and footnotes; excluding bibliography) without prior permission of the Doctoral Committee. Permission may be granted only if it can be justified on objective grounds (e.g., that the candidate's nostrification rules require the dissertation to be of a particular length). In principle, only GPA 3.33 or higher entitles the Student to submit the dissertation for defense.

6.2.3. The submitted dissertation shall include:

1. title page including the author's name, date of submission, and the supervisor(s)' name(s);
2. table of contents;
3. abstract of maximum 500 words;
4. signed statement that the dissertation contains no materials accepted for any other degrees in any other institution;
5. signed statement that the dissertation contains no materials previously written and/or published by another person, except where appropriate acknowledgements are made in the form of bibliographical reference;
6. where the work is based on joint research, disclosure of the respective contribution of the authors;
7. any other requirements imposed by CEU PU Doctoral Regulations or other regulations, and
8. submitting a statement whether the doctoral student objects to anyone being in their committee.

6.2.4. Upon receipt of the supervisor's consent for submission, and on the basis of full compliance with all other requirements for submission of the dissertation for defense, the Dissertation Committee members will be proposed by the doctoral student's Program Chair to the LEGS Doctoral Committee, which may in turn recommend them for appointment by the UDC. Before filing the proposal with the LEGS Doctoral Committee, the Program Chair should acquire the consent of the Committee members.

The composition of the Committee is based on the CEU PU Doctoral Regulation's provisions.

Upon appointment by the UDC, Committee members shall be supplied with a hard or electronic copy of the dissertation.

6.3. The defense

6.3.1. The LEGS dissertation defense is in oral form. Written defense is allowed only in exceptional circumstances, whereupon the Doctoral Candidate must apply in writing to the LEGS Doctoral Committee for approval. In case of a written defense, the relevant sections of the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations shall be applied directly.

6.3.2. The Candidate's supervisor shall normally chair the defense of the dissertation, unless otherwise decided by the Defense Committee. The defense normally starts with a short introduction by the candidate on his/her dissertation topic, and then – prior to the questions posed by the panel members – the Candidate is asked to give a brief overview of the dissertation.

6.3.3. The defense is public, with the exception of the decision-making process, when the audience is asked to leave the room. Written records – signed by each Committee Member – have to be made on the grading of the defense. Audio or video recording is allowed only if approved by the Dissertation Committee.

6.4. Acceptance

6.4.1. If the dissertation and the defense satisfy the required academic standards, the defense is graded according to the following:

- Summa cum laude (the highest grade);
- Magna cum laude;
- Cum laude (the lowest passing grade).

6.4.2. The guidelines for dissertation evaluation are as follows:

- whether the CEU PU guidelines on language, grammar and structure have been complied with;
- whether the CEU PU rules against plagiarism have been adhered to and whether the dissertation consistently follows one recognized legal citation system (e.g., the Harvard Law School Blue Book of Citations or equivalent);
- whether the dissertation makes a significant contribution to the body of knowledge and understanding of the subject with which it deals;
- whether the dissertation demonstrates the candidate's capacity to carry out quality independent research;
- whether the dissertation contains material worthy of publication; and
- whether substantial knowledge in the specific subject is demonstrated.

6.4.3. A defense is unsuccessful if the majority of the Dissertation Committee is of the opinion that the dissertation does not satisfy the criteria of originality, scope, depth and quality, or if other grave problems dictate such an outcome (e.g., plagiarism).

In such a case, the Dissertation Committee will set a deadline for resubmission of the dissertation, which may not be shorter than three months or longer than one year. If the examinee files an appeal against the decision to the CEU PU body as determined by CEU PU regulations, this deadline shall start running from the date of the final decision made by the appellate level.

The Dissertation Committee shall also provide the student with detailed requests for modifications to be formulated and communicated to the student either by the supervisor - Committee Member or by the student's Program Chair.

The members of the Dissertation Committee to review the resubmitted dissertation shall remain the same unless exceptional circumstances dictate otherwise.

If the examinee does not file an appeal, the resubmitted dissertation shall be forwarded to the Dissertation Committee members, who will be asked to review the dissertation based on the requests for modifications made and to express in writing whether the requested modifications have been satisfactorily complied with. If they are satisfied with the modifications made by the student, they shall also grade the resubmitted dissertation.

Exceptionally, if the majority of the voting members so decide and if approved by the UDC, the oral defense may be repeated before the same or another Dissertation Committee.

The grade awarded for a resubmitted dissertation may not be higher than magna cum laude.

If the student has filed an appeal against the Dissertation Committee decision, the decision of the appellate body will be applied.

7. Unsatisfactory progress and other breach of doctoral regulations

7.1. Probationary Candidates and Doctoral Candidates may be served for any infringement of these or the CEU PU Doctoral Regulations with the following measures:
